

Mount Si High School Career Center

Check out this online information on
STUDY ABROAD programs

For High School Students

The best way to truly get to know another culture and language is by living with a local host family and attending a local high school.

CSIET - www.csiet.org; on the left, click on 2010-11 list of approved programs
The Council on Standards for International Educational Travel (CSIET) Advisory List is a private, not-for-profit organization, which sets standards for reputable international exchange programs for high school youths. Check their website for a list of approved programs.

National Geographic Student Expeditions - www.ngstudentexpeditions.com
National Geographic Student Expeditions are open to 9th – 12th grade students.

For College Students

Also check with your college/university for their study abroad programs.

International Student Exchange Programs (ISEP)- <http://www.isep.org/>
ISEP is a network of 300 colleges and universities in 42 countries cooperating to provide affordable access to international education for a diverse student population.

National Student Exchange - www.nse.org
Offers opportunities to do an exchange within the United States or in Canada.

GoAbroad website – www.goabroad.com
Search for a Study Abroad program! Or search for a Degree Abroad in a foreign country which allows you to receive your degree at a university outside the U.S. Search comprehensive information on universities in the U.S. and Canada.